

Letter From Management

Turbulent market sentiment, changing policies, climate change, growing environmental protection awareness, international trade wars and unexpected incidents, all have been causing tension and impact to the industries and the general public. Despite of unfavorable business conditions, CMP Group continues devoting efforts on reinventing the value and contribution to the society, venturing into the unknown again and again to span its business scope across metal manufacturing, real estate development and lifestyle hospitality around the world for decades.

In this fast-changing world, companies must stay abreast of the times. By insisting on looking at the long-terms, CMP Group became the brand that represents excellent quality, safety and innovation. At CMP Group, we ask ourselves to bear in mind the idea of co-prosperity and utilize technology to facilitate the interactions of humanities and communities. CMP Group aims to pioneer and transform the existing rigid and dirty image of the metal manufacturing industry into a welcoming and sustainable industry that integrates within circular economy.

Years of accumulated hard work has led CMP Group to its milestone of the first stage in 2019. We succeeded in cultivating internal trainers, we contributed to the society via field research of industry academia collaborations, and we were certified as a training base for high-end technical talents. In addition, CMP Group was recognized by 1111 Job Bank as a Happiness Enterprise. The groundbreaking ceremonies for CMP Midtown at Taichung, CMP Intercontinental Taichung Hotel and new factory for metal manufacturing also took place this year. Without the trust and long-term support from all of our employees, suppliers and customers, CMP Group could not have thrived amid China-US trade war and fierce market competition. In 2020, CMP Group will be moving towards low-carbon economy, cultivating talents for the future, and strengthening the entire supply chain to facilitate transformation.

Move towards Low-Carbon Economy

As sustainability is placed at the center of CMP Group's operational principle, the idea of low-carbon is weaved into our product life cycle. With the help of technology, CMP Group is able to realize the vision of circular economy, low-carbon city and responsible consumption.

Industry Transformation Pioneer

CMP Group adjusts and strengthens supplier structure while assisting suppliers to improve regarding environmental and social aspects, hoping to reinvent the industry and demonstrate CMP Group's long-term value.

As external turbulent incidents persist, CMP Group shall continue to cope with agile responsiveness and caution. Weighing the factors of economy, environment and society, with all stakeholders feeling assured to join hands, CMP Group aims to achieve the greater goal of industry transformation altogether.

Cultivate Talents for the Future

Stemming from the internal trainer program and certified training base for high-end technical talents program, the digital online learning platform integrates resources and industry-academic cooperation, offering competency courses both online and offline to pass on professional knowledge as well as cultivate talents for smart manufacturing and sustainable development.
